If Everything Was As Cheap As Our Ice

The cost of living would be as low as it was in the good old days. No use worrying, however, because it isn't that way. Be glad that ice is helping to keep down the cost of living, besides giving you better food and a greater variety of it than your grandfather's family ever had.

LATEST LOCALS

Mrs. Elmer DeCamp has returned from a very pleasant visit to Connecticut.

Miss Ellen Stripling returned today from a very pleasant visit to friends in Orlando.

Just in, a fresh shipment of real imported Olive Oil. Pints and half pints, at Gerig's Drug Store.

A considerable number of Ocala Woodmen are going to the county convention at Sparr tonight.

There will be no services at the Christian church Thursday evening, as was announced at the church Sunday.

Mrs. L. M. Murray and daughter, Elizabeth, arrived today from their summer trip, which included Cincinnati and New York.

Mr. E. P. Anderson, who is spending this week in Ocala, expects to leave Friday night for Savannah, where he is engaged in business.

We regret to learn that Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Haskell will soon leave for Oregon. But they have Florida sand in their shoes and some day will return.

Get ready your fall garden. We have new seed in. Bitting & Co. tf

That game between the Sparr giants and the Ocala going-backs, at Hunter Park tomorrow will be the baseball event of the season. All who like baseball should go see it.

Deputy Sheriff Gordon today headed off a colored girl bound north from Leesburg. She had stolen a large quantity of clothes from her employer.

Mrs. Frederick Hocker, who has spent the summer with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Montgomery in Elizabethtown, Ky., will leave there today, and is expected home Friday, accompanied by her little son.

Mr. and Mrs. Truett P. Drake have just arrived from Hendersonville, N. C., where they spent most of the summer. Mrs. Drake will return in a day or two and later drive thru her car, but Mr. Drake's vacation is over for this year.

Cara Nome the exquisite Talcum Powder. Ask to see it at Gerig's Drug Store.

"Upside Down," at the Temple today, featuring Taylor Holmes, is pictured from a Harper's Magazine story, "Lovely Reasons," telling how a husband found many lovely reasons for a divorce, with laughs coming thick and fast. The Ford Weekly will be shown.

Deputy Sheriff Gordon picked up an unusually heartless sort of a scamp the other day and held him for an officer from Bradford county. A returned soldier had lost his pocket-book, containing about $30, and this yellow-livered slacker found and kept it. He should be sent up for thirty years.

We have a few Bathing Caps, just in from New York, 35 cents to one dollar each, at Gerig's Drug Store.

Maxey Moody of Jacksonville and Dell Moody of Oklawaha, two well-known and much liked ex-Ocala boys, were in town today. Dell has charge of a turpentine farm in South Marion, but his wife and child are staying with Mr. Moody's mother in Orlando. Maxey was a participant in an auto accident near Jacksonville some months ago. The car, driven by a friend of his, turned over, and the friend was killed and Maxey badly hurt, but he is as well as ever now.

NOTICE

The city council will receive bids at regular meeting October 7th for sale of brick at the old water tower lot, approximately 100,000.

NIGHTS OF UNREST

No Sleep, No Rest, No Peace With a Lame or Aching Back

Wear the lot of many a kidney sufferer.

Pain and distress from morn to night.

Get up with a lame back.

Twinges of backache bother you all day.

Dull aching breaks your rest at night.

Urinary disorders add to your misery.

If you have kidney trouble, Reach the cause—the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for the kidneys only—

Have made an enviable reputation in Ocala.

Ask your neighbor!

H. G. McDavid, retired carpenter, Henry and N. Osceola Sts., Ocala, says: "I suffered from bladder trouble. I was compelled to get up often at night to pass the kidney secretions and this broke my rest. Mornings I awoke feeling unrefreshed. I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills and procured some at Tydings & Co's. drug store, and they helped me in a very short time. Doan's soon strengthened my kidneys and bladder."

Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. McDavid had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.—60

ON HIS WAY EAST

(By Mt. Clemens News Bureau)
Aboard President Wilson's Special Train.—As he speeds back eastward, on the last lap of his long journey, across the land and then down the Pacific coast, President Wilson is happy in the knowledge that the people of California, one of the states about which he was doubtful because of its senatorial representative, Hiram Johnson, are heart and soul for the league of nations. Californians, the president found, are inclined to look upon Mr. Johnson as the next president of the United States. A great number of them have frankly said to those close to Mr. Wilson that between the president and Senator Johnson, should they oppose each other in 1920, the popular vote of the state would go to Mr. Johnson.

Want The League Just As It Is

"But when it comes to the league of nations, Mr. President, we are with you and against our senator," innumerable Californians of various types told Mr. Wilson. Republicans, Independents, and particularly women want the league just as it, and a good percentage of the people here have informed Senator Johnson of their wishes. It was regarded as rather significant that after the president had spent three days in California and had obviously won the heart of the citizens, Johnson announced that his speaking tour in opposition to the beautiful city of Los Angeles, where the president spent his week-end, literally went wild with enthusiasm over him. Its welcome outdid anything that had gone before and there had been many warm welcomes elsewhere. He was escorted upon his arrival through ten miles of crowded streets and through a din of cheers and applause that seemed to intensify as he went along. Flowers were strewn upon every yard of asphalt over which he passed, while above his head every few feet flags and banners fluttered in the mild western breeze, from sidewalks to housetops, every point of vision was occupied and was vociferous. It was estimated that more than four hundred thousands of the happy residents of the metropolis turned out in his honor.

Challenges Senator Johnson

There was a challenge, indirect, but nevertheless a challenge, to Senator Johnson and other opponents of the league. In the president's remarks in Los Angeles, he demanded to know what these opponents had to offer in place of the league. "Much of the argument directed against the league of nations is not based upon reason," he said. "It is a great constructive plan, and no man in the presence of the present critical situation of mankind has the right to oppose any constructive plan unless by a better constructive plan."

Ready To Go Back To Paris

"I will say now that I am ready to take ship again and carry back to Paris any constructive proposals which appear a suitable and better substitute for those which have been made." The president pointed out how every part of the league plan was based upon American principles. These principles were not his own, he declared, but were of the sort which had always inspired Americans. In reply to the often repeated words of Washington against "entangling alliances," Mr. Wilson made a new point in his last California address. "What Washington warned us against," he said, "was exactly what those gentlemen who oppose the league want to lead us back to. The dash we have left behind was a day of alliances and the balances of power. Every nation made a partnership with some other nation or group of nations to dominate the weaker portion of the world. This project of the league is a great process of disentanglement, after which alliances will not be needed, except the one great alliance of all the world."

Quotes William McKinley

Too, the president quoted from a speech made by the late William McKinley, the day before his assassination, and said Mr. McKinley had had a vision of the coming times when he delivered the address. Mr. Wilson said: "His whole thought was against isolation. His whole thought was that we had become partners with the rest of the world. His whole thought was that the better we knew each other and the closer we drew together, the more certain it would be that the processes of civilization would be adopted, and that men would not fight, but would talk things over."

At Reno And Salt Lake City

Eastward bound the president's first stop was at Reno, then later at Salt Lake City. After that he had eight more cities to visit before reaching the capital again.
